Red River Solutions Ranks 14th in Inaugural Appearance at Dallas 100™ Awards

Rapid Growth Results in Impressive Debut on Annual List

Dallas, Texas, Nov. 9, 2007 – Red River Solutions, a leading Dallas-based information technology services company, was named the 14th fastest-growing private company in the Dallas/Fort Worth metroplex at the 2007 Dallas 100 Awards on Wednesday. The awards were presented at the Myerson Symphony Center by the SMU Cox Caruth Institute for Entrepreneurship.

Red River Solutions President, Michael Stewart, accepted the award on behalf of the company. “When a business consistently exceeds its customers’ expectations by adding value to every interaction, rapid growth is almost unavoidable,” said Stewart. “In the three and a half years we’ve been in business, we’ve learned that if we exhaustively focus on managing that dynamic to the best of our ability, the way is cleared for amazing growth to just take care of itself.”

Red River Solutions CEO, Tammy O'Connor, credits Red River's team of IT consultants for amplifying opportunities for company growth through stellar performance reports. “We have an amazing roster of IT consultants who make us look good every day,” she said. “The consistent customer satisfaction they create enables us to generate a large share of our revenue growth by leveraging existing client relationships, an important component of any company's growth strategy.”

O'Connor was an Ernst and Young Entrepreneur of the Year—Southwest Region nominee earlier this year.

Partnering with the right IT staffing company provides an important competitive advantage for companies. Getting the right talent into the right place at the right time is absolutely critical to vitalizing companies' growth. Red River Solutions provides businesses with top IT talent, freeing them to focus on the things they are good at.

The Dallas 100 recognizes the top 100 fastest growing, privately held companies in the North Texas area. These 100 companies generated combined sales of $3.6 billion in 2006.

Red River Solutions, headquartered in Dallas, Texas, is a leading provider of technical consulting services to a wide array of customers across the U.S., and is an SBA-designated small business, woman-owned, certified by the Woman's Business Enterprise and HUB-certified by the State of Texas.
